DEACON JESSE ALLEN

On Wednesday, Nov. 23, a feeling of sorrow passed throughout the town when we learned of the death of our beloved and most distinguished citizen, Deacon Jesse Allen.

Mr. Allen resigned two years ago on account of failing health from the town clerkship after a record of 50 years of most efficient and faithful service, a record hardly ever surpassed. His daughter, Eva, succeeded him as town clerk until she left town in December. Besides serving the town as town clerk, he held many other offices during his life, including school committee, overseer of the poor, library trustee, cemetery commissioner, town treasurer, and also was a justice of the peace and represented the district in the legislature.

In the death of Mr. Allen Oakham has lost the most distinguished life long citizen that it ever knew.

In behalf of the town and ourselves we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his daughters.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. DAY,

SYLVESTER R. DEAN,

EDMUND CODY,

Selectmen of Oakham.

During the past year, the town has lost two valued friends, who were much interested in the library.

Mrs. Celia E. Fobes of Worcester who has done so much towar! establishing and maintaining the library died in November.

With feelings of deep sadness we record the death of our associate on the Library Board for so many years, Deacon Jesse Allen. Our library, school, church and entire community will greatly miss his genial presence, excellent judgment and wise counsel.

The books have been re-shelved, new ones catalogued and worn ones discarded.

The library received a legacy of $153 from the estate of Miss J. H. Orzina Lovell.

Respectfully submitted,
SARA E. BUTLER,
FLORENCE E. BOTHWELL,

Trustees.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Holden, Mass., Jan. 1, 1923

To the School Committee of Oakham:

My fifth report as superintendent, and the twentythird in the series is presented herewith for your consideration. The usual statistical information and special reports follow, and are deserving of careful attention.

We have again been fortunate in meeting with no serious interruptions during the year and good faithful work has been accomplished. It is pleasing to note that more of our boys and girls are going to high school this year, and that they are bringing credit to their elementary training and to themselves.

As I have stated many times before we are fortunate in having no changes in teachers for a number of years. This should not lead us to take our teachers for granted. Rather should we make every inducement in the way of salaries and all needed equipment, to keep them and to show our appreciation.

During the year we have made several changes in our text books along the lines suggested in former reports. We are now supplied with the new edition of the Aldine series for teaching reading and are gradually replacing our basal material in history and geography with modern revisions, and working toward the elimination of the ninth grade. With smaller classes this may be accomplished more readily at Coldbrook and as we have no eighth grade there this year we may expect to bring about the change without any complication next year. This change when completed will bring our schools into line with the others of the union, and will effect the reorganization begun when the entrance age was raised to six years. I have had the cooperation of the teachers in working toward this end and want to express my sincere appreciation of their help.

We have sold to the Holden schools several desks and some blackboard taken from the South school when that building was sold, and in this way have been able without extra expense to the town to purchase kindergarten chairs and table, new curtains for all the schools and new material for teaching reading.

There has been very little new educational legislation during the year. We are passing through a period of readjustment in every line of activity. It will take time to put into operation the provisions of school laws enacted last year. We have been fortunate in securing Mrs. E. S. Douglass as School Nurse. The services of nurse and physician may be of great value to Oakham, but we shall need to make a larger appropriation for their work. Attention was called last year to the law requiring the teaching of "indoor and outdoor games and athletic exercises." At present we have done very little along this line beyond the calisthenics and setting up exercises required in every school.

It will be necessary this year to determine by some form of mental test the amount of retardation in our schools, in accordance with the law mentioned last year. This law requires a special class for retarded children if ten or more are found in the town.

Completion of the work of the sixth grade is the minimum requirement before a child may leave school. All children between the ages of SEVEN and FOURTEEN must attend school ALL THE TIME THE SCHOOLS ARE IN SESSION. The law provides that the School Committee through the Attendance officer shall enforce this law and bring into court any parent failing to comply with its provisions.

Attendance at Summer Schools and study of the best methods and practises by means of Correspondence courses offered by our Normal Schools and through the University Extension, the reading of books—these present to the teacher the means of keeping in touch with progressive live educational thought. Many towns and cities require this. Others make such study the prerequisite for promotion and salary increase. In many places part of the expense of attendance at summer sessions or of correspondence courses is borne by the town. In Holden last year $50 was added to the salary of the teachers who attended summer school. Nearly fifty per cent. of our teachers are studying in one of the ways named, for professional self-improvement. I would like to see some special inducement along this line offered teachers in Oakham.

Your attention is invited to the report of the School Physician and of the Music Supervisor. I regret to note the excessive number of cases of defective teeth in Dr. Douglass' report. I cannot believe that parents willingly neglect this important matter when it is called to their attention. A word of appreciation and thanks is due the Doctor for the interest he has always taken in his examination of the children. The small amount he is paid is out of proportion to the good that is done. The service would be made of greater value if parents would give heed to his notices.

I take this opportunity to thank the School Committee, the teachers and pupils and the parents for loyal support and for many courtesies shown. It is no small part of the reward of service and of the joy of service to feel that one is appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES R. CHILDS,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Oakham, Mass., Jan. 1, 1923.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The work in music is being advanced on a plan similar to that of last year with varied applications of the fundamental principles.

In the lower grades special attention has been given to ear-training, correlating it with eye-work later.

Rote songs, sung by the class and individually form the basis for this work. Individual work is urged and encouraged from the first grade, and continuing through the upper grades.

From the beginning the child is taught to sing with a pure, light tone quality. Insistance on good tone quality is of paramount importance.

Two, three and four part singing is introduced and sung by the class and by individuals. The problems in time, tone and theory are studied and drilled upon. With the exception of some individual cases the children are taught to carry either soprano or alto in two part music. They thus gain not only additional ear and eye training for the present, but valuable experience when the changing voice necessitates the singing of a second part.

If the music periods have made the pupils more alert mentally, keener in theory, more appreciative of the best in music, and have given them that test of training "the capability of attempting new subjects," we may justly feel that we have accomplished much for educational music in the schools.

The results have differed according to the pupil, some principles unconsciously becoming more evident than others.

Respectfully submitted,
RUTH B. DWELLY,
Music Supervisor.
